The ideas implemented in furniture projects are of universal application, because they contain deep ergonomics and functionality. We hope our album will inspire you to create a unique interior. To do this, on each broadside we left tips on the most important items for the room arrangement: ergonomics, colour, composition. Welcome to KOMANDOR world of design!

WOMAN'S WARDROBE

Functionality and comfort- these are typical features of woman's wardrobe. Everything needs to be carefully designed and matched to the individual needs. Not only is a wardrobe a piece of furniture, but it is also a very private space, almost a sanctuary for clothes and accessories. Let its interior be your private space for comfort, designed to meet your needs, where everything has its place chosen by you.

What you should remember when you design your wardrobe's interior:

Plan the right place for your hanging and folder clothes

Create a special place for your shoes to separate it from everyday's clothes

Store your bags on separate shelves or hangers. It will help you avoid deforming their elements

Store your soft jumpers in openwork baskets to keep them well-ventilated

Keep jewellery and lingerie in special drawers and organisers with soft material.

RECOMMENDED:

MEN'S WARDROBE

Logic and plans - these are the components of a man's wardrobe. All the elements need to be practical and functional, because a wardrobe is used for storing things. Using your wardrobe's potential to logically place your things will help you to store everything you need and take care of your comfort. Everyday's usage of your wardrobe and keeping everything in order won't be a problem!

What you should remember when you design your wardrobe's interior:

Store your things logically. Place your trousers, shirts and ties in the designated places so that you can quickly match it with your suits.

Designate a special place for storing your shoes

Think about a practical laundry basket. It will help you to keep your clothes clean and in order.

For the sake of safety and better segregation keep your watches and underwear in special drawers and organizers.

Plan a space for your hobby and seasonal clothes.

BEDROOM

Another great design idea for the bedroom is to use clear lines, natural colours, accessories and carefully chosen materials. A bedroom should be characterized by a well thought-out design, appropriate to the nature of the owner. A room setting should consist of aesthetics and perfect order to create organised storage and give a modern essence. Every item in the room should complement the wardrobe. Choose sliding doors such as our frameless Aero doors which are top mounted, leaving a trackless floor perfect for a walk in wardrobe.

BEDROOM

Of course, there should be a bed in the bedroom! But before bedtime it is so wonderful just to read a book, to look through the posts of your friends in social networks – so, a small table will be really useful here. Also in the bedroom should be a wardrobe, in which we can store a lot of linen and other clothes. And if you want your personal belongings to look neat and tidy - your wardrobe should be rather big and spacious.

ROOM FOR A SCHOOLCHILD

Room for a pupil should be adapted for two main tasks: study and rest. The competently decorated interior motivates the child for active mental and physical activity. It is important to organize an environment that would contribute to productive learning and the formation of a decent child's self-esteem. It is worthwhile to use neutral color schemes there, that will not be irritating for the child. A lot of bookshelves will be really useful there, in addition to the working table.

LIVING ROOM

White wardrobe is not just a tribute to the latest furniture fashion. A large number of white colour in the interior is a traditional attribute of the Scandinavian style. It is light, airy, and it will not look too cumbersome; it will perfectly match with light furniture. A white glass or board decorated with a glossy film with a pattern is a good combination. Also, you should carefully consider the accessories for the wardrobe in the guest room, because books, albums, board games, and appliances are usually kept there, too.
